Meet Brie, your Physical Therapist

BrieAnn Buletza, PT, DPT, OCS

Brie received her Bachelor's in Sports Management from Kutztown University before earning her Doctorate of Physical Therapy at Slippery Rock University. Her commitment to lifelong learning is evident in her pursuit of various advanced courses post-graduation. In 2019, she distinguished herself by becoming a Board Certified Orthopaedic Clinical Specialist. As proud member of the American Physical Therapy Association, Brie is actively involved in the Pennsylvania Chapter and the Orthopaedics Section. Her professional interests include orthopaedics and sports and vestibular rehab.

Outside of her career, Brie cherishes quality time with family and friends, staying active through exercise, traveling, indulging in college football during the fall, and embracing the joys of motherhood.

Exclusively for employees and covered dependents, Tx:Team solves a common problem - finding medical care that's convenient, high quality, personalized yet still affordable, and fits into your family's busy schedule. Physical Therapy will address symptoms that are preventing you from participating in the activities that you enjoy.
